MODERN SYSTEM OF FOOTBALL CENSURED

Doctor Hetherington of Missouri University Scores Present Methods Before Departing for Meeting in New York.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.
Columbia, Mo., Dec. 28.—Doctor C. W. Hetherington, director of physical culture in Missouri University, departed today for New York City, where he will attend the meeting of the National Association of Directors of Physical Culture in the United States, which will be held Friday of this week in New York City.

Doctor Hetherington stated that he knew from personal experience that the regular methods, such as those described in the recent series of articles in a weekly publication, were employed by Western universities to secure football material.

Two reforms have been proposed. One of the reforms is the abolition of the system of the game being played for the love of the sport, and the other is the abolition of the system of the game being played for the love of the sport.

JUDGES DISQUALIFIED RACE.

Father Talbot, Who Not With Intention, Was Discussed.

SEX-EGOT SCHOOLS JOIN TO REFORM FOOTBALL GAME; NAME A RULES COMMITTEE

Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Annapolis and Chicago University, Whose Representatives at Present Make Regulations, Not Represented, but Will Be Asked to Merge Their Committee With the New — If Union Is Not Effected, Other Institutions Will Act Independently.

MISSOURI AND ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITIES REPRESENTED.

New York, Dec. 28.—A concerted movement toward reforming the game of football in the colleges and universities of America was begun today, when the representatives of sixty-eight institutions of learning met in New York City to discuss the adoption of rules and an enforcement of them that are expected to remove the danger to players, away with mass formations and secure permanent officials for intercollegiate football.

The conference perfected a permanent organization and appointed a Rules Committee of seven, which will communicate with the representatives of Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Annapolis and Chicago University, constituting the existing Committee on Rules, asking for an amalgamation with that body.

None of the above-mentioned universities was represented at today's conference, if they refuse to join with the committee appointed to-day the latter will act independently, and formulate rules for the game, and the institutions will act independently.

The committee on Rules named by the conference is as follows: E. H. Hart, Yale; J. A. H. Hart, Princeton; J. A. H. Hart, Harvard; J. A. H. Hart, Pennsylvania; J. A. H. Hart, Cornell; J. A. H. Hart, Annapolis; J. A. H. Hart, Chicago University.

Other proposed changes are the abolition of the professional coach and the reduction of the admission fees charged to students. Still another is to make the limit that a man may play on a team, and to set an age limit of twenty-four years after which a player shall be ineligible.

The old idea of football was that it was an incidental feature of college life. It was played for the love of the sport, for the recreation. But the tendency has been for the professional to drive out the amateur.

A "sport" crowd has secured control and has taken the element of selfishness out of the game, putting it on a par with professional baseball.

The spirit of the reform contained in the recent exposure of modern football methods is continued in the statement, "to away with the professional."

DEBATE SPIRITED.

The debate during the day was spirited. The New York City committee, which was the main force in the existing Football Rules Committee, was the result of the stand taken by the New York City committee.

Among the many resolutions introduced during the day were: That the game of football as practiced under the present rules is a danger to the health of the players; That the game of football as practiced under the present rules is a danger to the health of the players.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

Whereas, the game of football as practiced under the present rules is a danger to the health of the players; That the game of football as practiced under the present rules is a danger to the health of the players.

Resolved, That this conference recommends that the academic authorities of the country should take action to eliminate the game of football from the curriculum of the colleges and universities.

Resolved, That the action taken at this conference on football shall be subject to the approval of the academic authorities of the country.
